Thank you Jessica for your nice e-mail, I will try and answer your questions

1. What are your other interests besides sled racing? My family & fishing
2. How is Hobo doing? And will he be able to compete in this year's Iditarod? Hobo is doing great, he has run several races this season and if he continues to do well I plan to put him in the Iditarod team
3. How did you and Jeff King become rivals? We are good friends and competitors, we are rivals because we are after the same thing...first place :)
4. How do you decide which dogs you take, and like which one you want to lead? I choose the dogs by how well they do in trainging and other races leading up to the Iditarod
5. How do you think you'll do this year? I am hoping to place in the top 5
6. Is there a certain strategy you have? No, not really. I kinda play it by ear. Follow the weather, and my dogs attitude and health
7. What made you first enter into the Iditarod? I have alwyas dreamed of running the Iditarod ever since I watched my dad win it when I was a little kid

My best
Lance

Dear Lance Mackey,

My 8th grade English class is learning about last year's Iditarod and we were allowed to write an email to one of our favorite mushers and I chose you. We were told to choose five people from the musher listing of who we think would be in the top five and you were my 1st place predicted winner. I really admire how you ran last year's race, and I absolutely love how you played Jeff King by leaving while he was sleeping. Totally rad! I just wanted to wish you the best of luck in the upcoming 2009 Iditarod.

I would like to ask a few questions like...

1. What are your other interests besides sled racing?
2. How is Hobo doing? And will he be able to compete in this year's Iditarod?
3. How did you and Jeff King become rivals?
4. How do you decide which dogs you take, and like which one you want to lead?
5. How do you think you'll do this year?
6. Is there a certain strategy you have?
7. What made you first enter into the Iditarod?

Once again good luck and be safe!

Sincerely,
Jessica W
