Dear Madison
Anyone can run the Iditarod if they are willing to work hard and spend a lot of time training dogs. It is a big commitment. If it is your dream - follow it!
The pink harnesses are the same cost as any other - about $20 each. I use pink to honor breast cancer patients surviors and those that have not survived. A simple reminder to get checked and tell loved ones to do the same.

As for what to do to support mushers...well... just keep cheering us on : ) we love it!

You are the coolest musher in the race. I think that you will be in the top five for sure and your dogs are so cute....What is your lead dog's name? Are the pink harnesses more expensive than the regular basic colors because I think that I might try to run the Iditarod for fun. Do you recommend that teenagers from Texas (one of the warmest states in the U.S.) run the Iditarod. I'm not the only one that plans to run the Iditarod some day, a lot of my friends want to also. Also what do you recommend we do to help support you and your fellow mushers? Thank you for your time to read my e-mail and to listen to my questions, if you would please send back so I can get some tips on my mushing future.
